Property Taxes. Real property tax collections, fiscal year to date, are 314.5 percent above the same period last year. However, the unusually high collections growth rate of real property taxes stems from the delay in the processing of property tax payments. Collections belonging to fiscal year 2014 were booked during the first couple of months of fiscal year 2015, but they are generally due in September.

Real Property Transactions Taxes. February real property transaction taxes collections were up 43.0 percent. Deed recordation tax collections increased by 44.4 percent and collections for the deed transfer tax increased by 59.0 percent as compared to February 2014 year-to-date collections. Although collections from the real estate transactions tax generally tend to be lumpy they have been growing since last September. During the same period, economic interest tax collections declined by 28.2 percent over last year.

General Sales and Use Tax. Fiscal year to date general sales and use tax collections were up by 9.4 percent compared to the same period last year, a slight change in the trend since the beginning of the current fiscal year.

Excise Taxes. Excise tax collections for the fiscal year to date increased by 42.7 percent compared to the same period last year, due mostly to higher motor vehicle excise tax collections.

Income Taxes. February fiscal year to date individual income tax collections increased by 11.0 percent from the same period last year. The withholding tax portion increased by 7.7 percent, while non-withholding increased by 89.3 percent.

February fiscal year to date corporate franchise tax collections decreased by a mere 0.2 percent, compared to that of February of a year earlier, while unincorporated business tax collections grew by 39.4 percent.

Gross Receipts Taxes. Fiscal year to date gross receipts tax collections in February were slightly up by 0.3 percent. Insurance premiums were up by 5.1 percent. Public utilities collections were almost the same and toll telecommunications were down by 7.4 percent.

Non-Tax Revenues. February fiscal year to date non-tax revenue collections were up by 32.5 percent relative to a year earlier. Fines and forfeitures grew by 91.8 percent, while licenses and permits collections were up by 42.1 percent and charges for services collections increased by 5.5 percent.
